

FOUNDATION SUPPORTS APPRENTICES

Thanks to donations to the Foundation by The ROMO Trust, two students have successfully completed Apprenticeships.

Lewis Cox from Portland age 17 was the 2011 KMF Apprentice working on the College Farm. He hopes to work for a local agricultural contractor when he leaves the College.

The first KMF Gardens Apprentice was Matthew Weldon who completed his apprenticeship in November 2011 and was offered a full time post. He now works in the formal gardens with particular responsibility for the maintenance of the croquet lawn.

The ROMO Trust has kindly agreed to continue to support the work of the College through the Foundation and the 2012 Apprentices are:

Kingston Maurward Farm - Matt Cooke

Kingston Maurward Gardens - Olivia Davis

KINGSTON MAURWARD CHARITABLE FOUNDATION

Fundraising for Kingston Maurward College and its Students

THE KINGSTON MAURWARD FOUNDATION (KMF)

The Kingston Maurward Foundation is a registered charity (number 1136355) established in 2009 to directly support Kingston Maurward College and its students.

It has already:

- Raised funds that have enabled the College to start a Pedigree Aberdeen Angus beef herd on the campus
- Received charitable donations that have supported apprentice students who both train and work at the College

STUDENT BURSARY FUND

Our next major project is to create a student bursary fund capable of making small financial grants to students to assist them meet costs they encounter as students of the College.

This might provide assistance with transport costs; helping with the purchase of essential equipment to assist their studies; support them with cost of foreign travel opportunities as part of their study programme; and much more.

HOW TO DONATE TO THE FOUNDATION

1. Personal donation

The most straightforward way of helping KMF is by offering a personal donation either as a one-off gift or on a regular basis by direct debit or standing order. You may choose to make your gift towards the student bursary fund or towards another College project. Student bursary donations and unspecified gifts are the most valuable to us as they give us the most flexibility to support the College and its students in the areas we know to be the most in need.

2. Fund Raising

Organise a fund raising event either exclusively in support of KMF or that stipulates KMF as one of the chosen beneficiaries.

3. Raffle

Participate in our annual raffle by purchasing tickets or donating a prize. Just contact Reception or the Visitor Centre for more details of the current raffle and prizes.

4. In Memory Giving

At times of loss it can be a source of great comfort to remember a loved one by making a gift in their memory. Such donations bring long-lasting benefits to the College and students - a lovely way to ensure the memory of your loved one lives on.

5. Legacies

Including KMF as a beneficiary of your will (either by bequeathing cash or a specific asset) is an extremely positive way of securing an enduring benefit from your estate. From April 2012 if you leave at least 10% of your total estate to a registered charity, such as KMF, then you will attract a reduced inheritance tax rate of 36% (down from 40%) meaning that less of your hard earned estate is lost in taxes upon death.

6. Gift of Shares

Donations of shares can become a valuable source of income for KMF and may entitle you to a relief on income tax and Capital Gains Tax.

7. Gifts in Kind

Sometimes it might seem more appropriate to donate a specific asset or property to KMF either for direct use by the College or which KMF may then sell to generate extra funds. Please contact a senior manager at the College if you have a specific donation in mind.

8. Corporate Gifts and Sponsorship

Perhaps your company or business would like to support Kingston Maurward College and its students? Corporate gifts or sponsorship made through KMF might bring you added benefit of tax incentives. Please speak to us about the many opportunities and PR benefits that exist for your business to be recognised as a supporter of Kingston Maurward College.

HOWEVER YOU DECIDE TO CONTRIBUTE DO NOT FORGET TO ASK US ABOUT GIFT AID.
