

Calling all level 1-3 agriculture students!

Here at Cornish Mutual, we're offering bursaries to support the training and development of students entering the agriculture industry.

2021 Winner
Enya McMullan, Level 2 Stockperson, Kingston Maurward

Who can apply?

The Cornish Mutual Young Farmer Bursary is open to any student studying an agriculture-based level 1, 2, or 3 course at Kingston Maurward College.

Bursaries

Cornish Mutual is awarding a student bursary of £500 for course-associated costs, such as:

- PPE
- Computer equipment
- Books
- Transport costs
- Additional training or certification

£500
bursary!

One bursary will be awarded each year per college and students are only eligible to receive the bursary once.

How to apply?

Entries should focus on the subject 'Why I want to be part of British agriculture' and be submitted as one of the following:

- 500-word written essay
- 20-image photo essay
- 2-minute video or audio podcast

Please submit your entry to futurefarming@cornishmutual.co.uk
and state how you would spend the bursary.

Deadline: 28th October 2022

For more details, please contact
futurefarming@cornishmutual.co.uk

Cornish Mutual membership is not required for entry. For successful applicants, Cornish Mutual will either purchase the equipment or pay monies for these items to the college or student as appropriate.